

THE 1938
GREYHOUND
Published by SENIOR CLASS of Handley High School
GRACE VAUGHN, Editor
CLYDE EDMONSON, Business Manager

Foreword

It is the hope of the 1938
GREYHOUND staff that this annual may be of ever-increasing pleasure to you in the years that are to come.

We have presented our school activities, we hope, in a manner
pleasing to YOU.
Our appreciation of your cooperation and support is genuine, for they have made possible the
1938 GREYHOUND.

The Staff

To you who have worked with us so faithfully, to you who have contributed so much to our happiness this year and to the success of this book, to you whose friendship shall grow more and more beautiful with the passing years as we go our several ways,
To the Seniors of 1939
We, the Seniors of 1938 gratefully dedicate this book.

SENIORS

Fred Anderson
His serious disposition he uses to hide a keen sense of humor.

Veronica Cain
Charitableness and friendliness are two of her virtues.

Frank Blackstone
Girls, hold your hearts, here comes Frank.

Earlene Campbell
Pleasant at first and improves with each meeting.

Mary Ruth Bracken
Her gay spirits are always welcome.

Jack Cromwell
Very reserved and universally liked among his friends.

Stanley Brannon
A dramatic student of whom to be proud.

Curtis Drinkard
He is honest, dependable, unassuming. Our public address system speaks for him.

SENIORS

Clyde Edmondson
Clyde is always trustworthy and capable.

Dorothy Henderson
She is always ready and willing for fun.

Geraldine Gouger
Geraldine is as friendly as her ever ready smile.

Bonnie Joe Hunter
Bonnie Joe's sweet smile makes her a pleasant companion.

Eugenia Grimes
A companion worth having.

Elton Johnson
One of our quietest students, but one of our best.

Alvis Hardie
Eldest of the famed "Hardie Troupe."

Frances Lose
Her silence is a blessing in this school of noise.

SENIORS

Betty Mann
Betty has a unique and winning personality.

Frances Morrison
Her composure is seldom disturbed.

Clarence Miller
Good natured and dependable describe Clarence.

Arthur McConnell
We call him "Big Boy"—Big in size and big in heart.

George Mitchell
Besides having the support of all his fellow players, while captain, he also has their friendship.

Ruth McKenzie
Her eager greeting and winning ways combine to form a grand personality.

Mona Belle Montgomery
Friendliness should have been her middle name because it describes her so well.

Franklin Needham
There is a great ability in knowing how to conceal one's ability.

SENIORS

Wesley Needham
Calm, collected, and clear minded.

Lillian Speece
The friendly look in her eye is genuine and full of good cheer.

Ellen Nelson
Every inch a good sport, and oh, so many inches.

Vivian Speight
Her lovely hands would make any one envious.

Willie Lee Purselley
A good sport and loads of fun.

Olin Stevens
Olin's quiet manners and high ideals bring respect from everyone.

Florence Sexton
Friendly, peppy, and care-free.

Jack Stout
Jack is a good scout in every way.

SENIORS

James Stowe
Although diminutive in size,
he is an able yell leader.

Gracie Vaughn
Gracie's sweet disposition is the highest type of loveliness.

Louise Tackett
A student, an artist, a friend—
a genial personality radiating good will.

Charles Wachholtz
Good nature and pleasing personality have won him
many friends.

Corinne Thompson Ability, friendliness and scholarship have made her outstanding.

Shirley Washington
Friendliness and good cheer for all.

Jack Thompson
Possessing wit and personality besides being a loyal friend makes him one of our popular students.

June Wilson
A lovely character always ready to do her part.

Heck!! It's a pity they've changed.

"Morals" of the school.

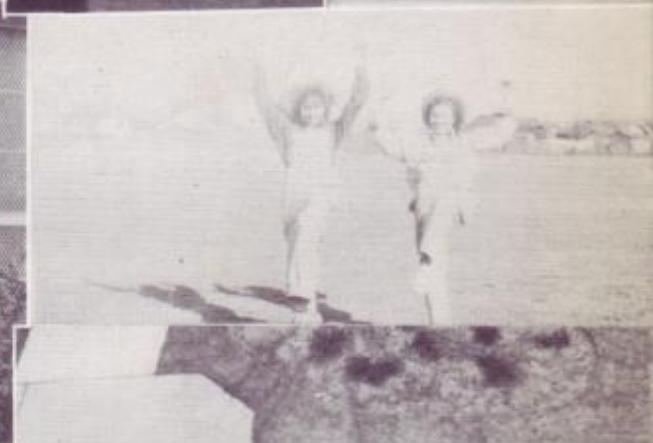

A study in expression.

Getting up in the world.

Just resting.

Our "head."

Football Lettermen

E. L. LOWE, Coach

Coach Lowe had a very successful season with the Greyhounds last year. Although he is always firm, he is patient and friendly to the boys. At the same time, he always demands the highest type of sportsmanship. It was through his fine leadership that the Greyhounds were able to go through the entire season with only one defeat.

MISS BOGESS, Girl Athletic Director

An instructor designed to provide play and recreation for the students. She has accepted and enjoyed all parts of the school. We feel that the Girls' Department of Physical Education has kept pace since she came to us. She also has devoted much extra time to the girls' sports, which has made her a fine friend and sport with all the girls.

T. L. CARLETON, Business Manager

Mr. Carleton was the Business Manager for our school athletics for the second year, and he did a very fine job.

Football Lettermen

GEORGE MITCHELL, Left End and Captain

Although George was handicapped by injuries a few weeks of the season, he was a very valuable man to have on one of the end positions when an enemy ballcarrier tried to gain ground over his wing position. George was a great offensive man as well as a defensive one. George's fine spirit as a captain was recognized by fans as well as his teammates. George will not be back next season, which his teammates regret, but they shall never forget "George."

GUS BIERMAN, Full Back and Co-Captain

Gus was a perfect cog in the wheel, a good sportsman, and an able captain. He kept up the fighting spirit of the team and was always on the job. Gus will be back next year with that everlasting spirit that will help push Handley on to victory.

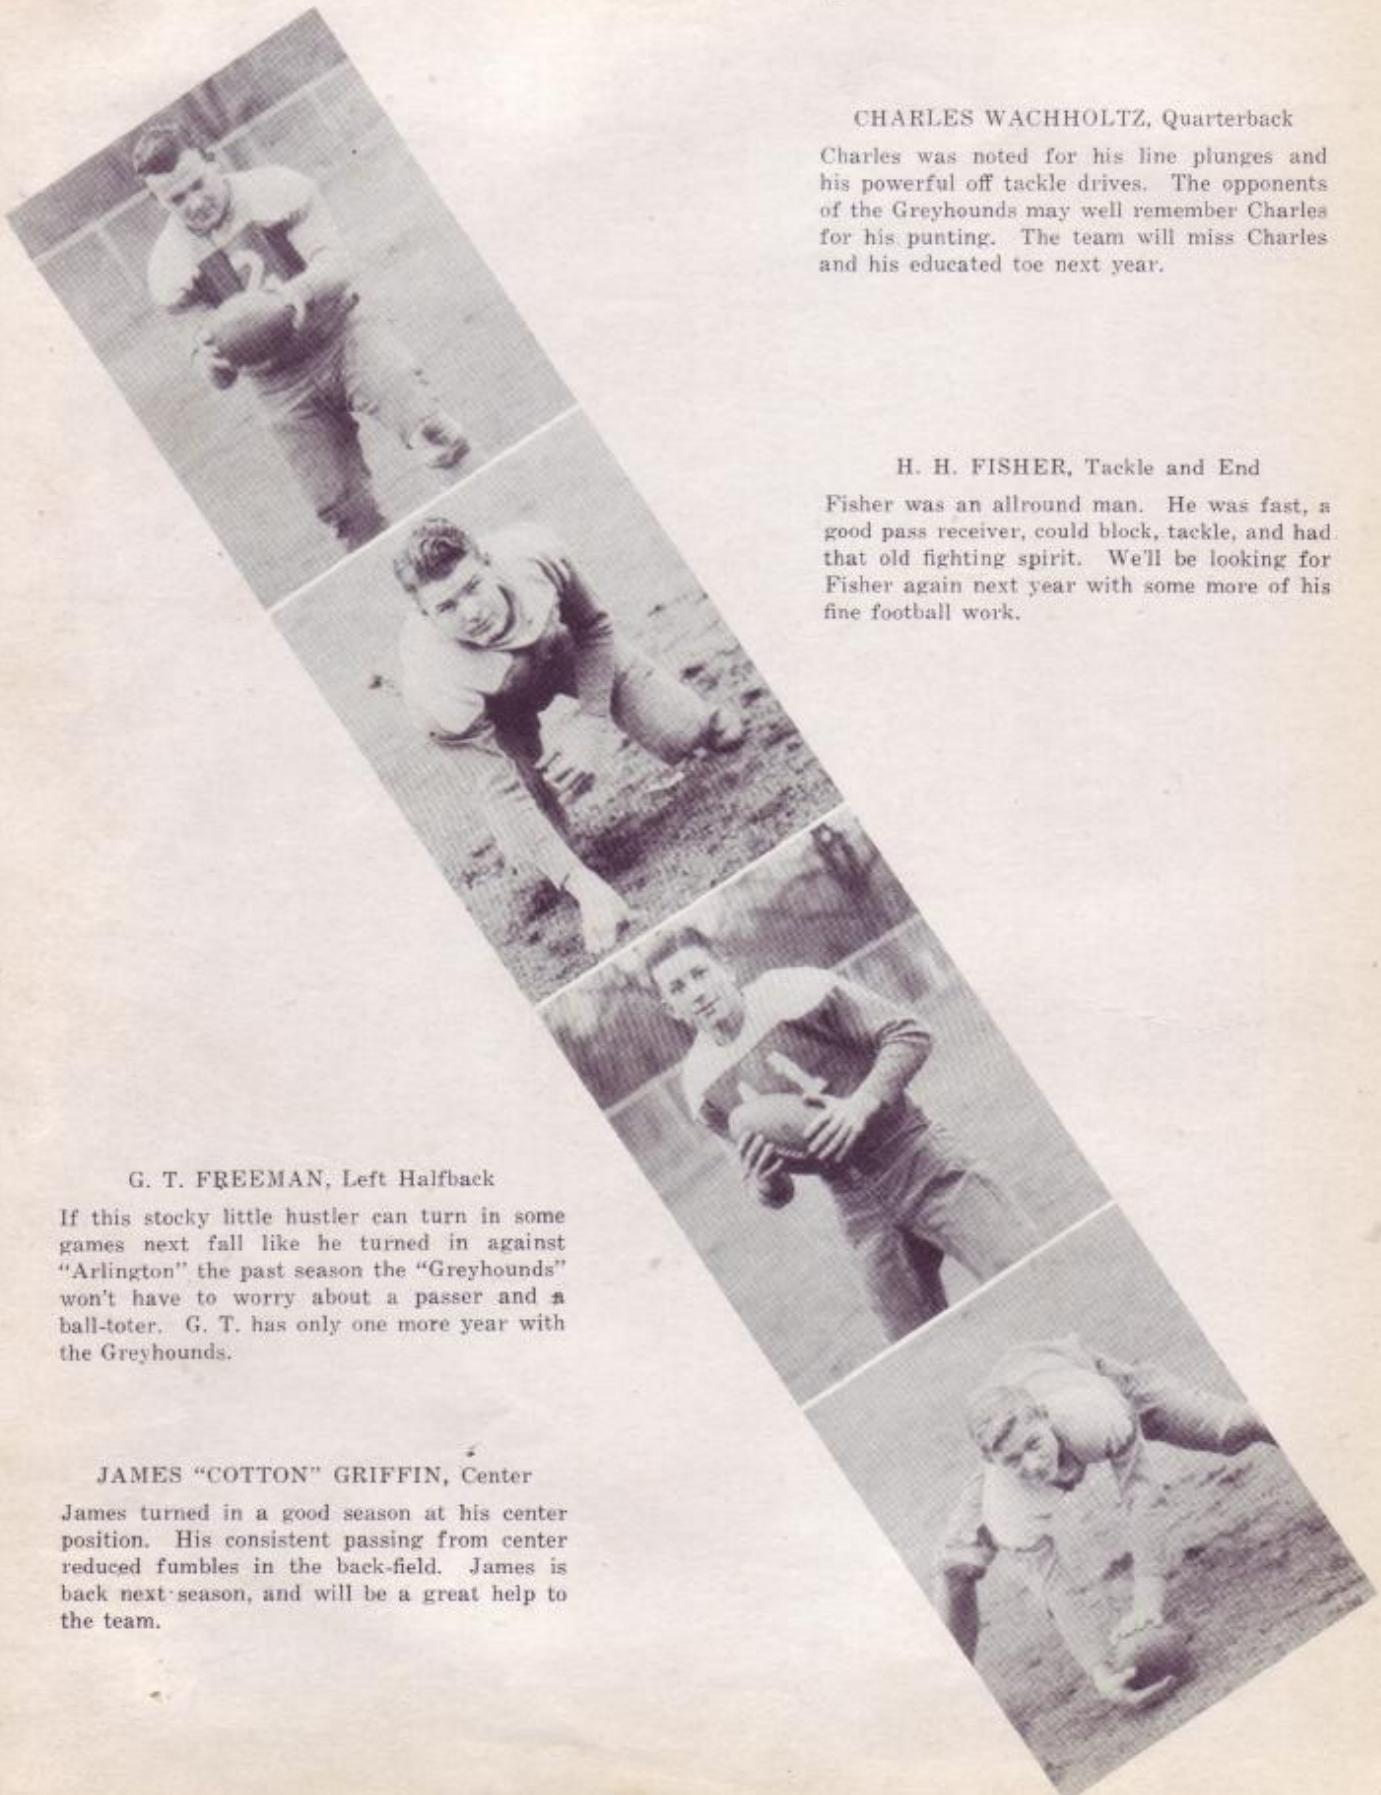

ARTHUR McCONNELL, Tackle

After playing enough to letter last year, Arthur came back much stronger this season. Arthur held down one of the tackles in fine form. He will not be back next year.

IRA GROVES, Right End

Ira, playing his last year as a Greyhound wingman, was a starter in every game. Ira was a fine pass-receiver and a great defensive man. We'll miss Ira, and his fine football spirit from the grid next fall.

G. T. FREEMAN, Left Halfback

If this stocky little hustler can turn in some games next fall like he turned in against "Arlington" the past season the "Greyhounds" won't have to worry about a passer and a ball-toter. G. T. has only one more year with the Greyhounds.

JAMES "COTTON" GRIFFIN, Center

James turned in a good season at his center position. His consistent passing from center reduced fumbles in the back-field. James is back next season, and will be a great help to the team.

CHARLES WACHHOLTZ, Quarterback

Charles was noted for his line plunges and his powerful off tackle drives. The opponents of the Greyhounds may well remember Charles for his punting. The team will miss Charles and his educated toe next year.

H. H. FISHER, Tackle and End

Fisher was an allround man. He was fast, a good pass receiver, could block, tackle, and had that old fighting spirit. We'll be looking for Fisher again next year with some more of his fine football work.

Football Lettermen

ALVIN PIERCE, Left Guard

Alvin can open up some big holes for the backs to drive through. He's a fine defensive guard and is a good tackler. Alvin will be back stronger next year to turn in some fine games for the Greyhounds.

OLIN STEVENS, Right Halfback

Olin was noted for his pass receiving in the flat-zone. Olin was a very fine blocker and an excellent interference runner. Olin played his last year for Handley High School.

WOODROW ZACEK, Tackle

This rugged lad held down one of the tackles in fine form. Woodrow played hard in every game. He played his first and last year for Handley.

WAYNE DODSON, Right Tackle

Dodson, who was one of last year's outstanding tackles, this season lived up to his reputation and turned in an enviable record. Arlington may well remember Wayne as an outstanding tackle. We regret that Dodson will not be back next season.

Football Lettermen

HUGH STOWE, Left Halfback

Little but loud. Hugh was fighting every minute of the game, always alert, a good tackler and a hard blocker. Handley is counting on Hugh again next year.

BILL COPPEAK, Halfback

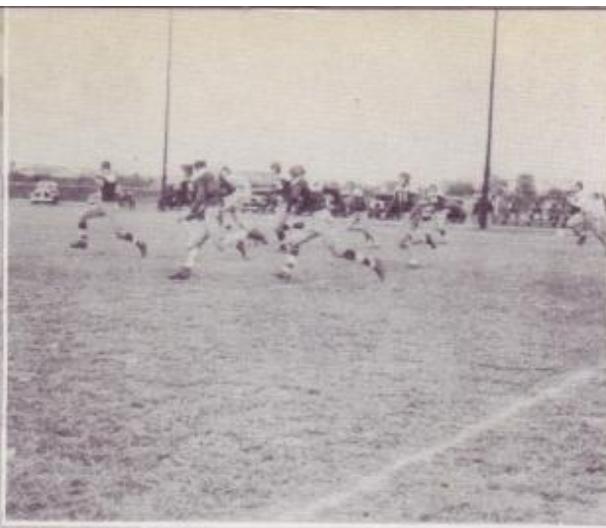

Bill was little but heavy. He didn't wait for his man; he went after him. Bill will be back next year.

OTIS BRATCHER, Right Guard

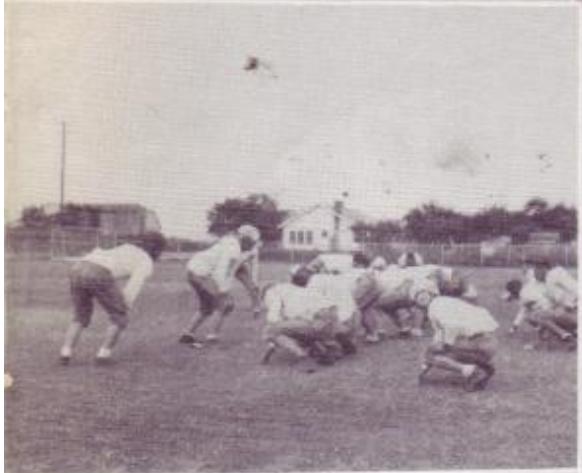

Otis played his first year of football this season and got much needed experience; although he earned the reputation of playing most of the time in the enemy's backfield. He was outstanding as a defensive guard. Otis will be with the squad next season.

STANDLEY BRANNON, Guard

Standley went into the game with an undying determination to win and was a very good defensive guard. He will not be back next year and his spirit will be lost to the Greyhounds.

E. L. Lowe, Jr. The boy who was popular between quarters with the football boys, has made us a very fine student manager.

The Greyhounds first practice after returning from training camp at Glen Rose.

Our Greyhound Coach—
"Boys, lets have a little action."

T. L. Carlton—"Big Business Man."

Wacholtz's long, beautiful kicks kept the Greyhounds in the bitterly fought Tech game.

Their tranquil observance was striking contrast to the President's busy, turbulent week just ended.

With them Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt arranged to have their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Roosevelt; their 6-year-old granddaughter, Sara, and several house guests.

STOCKS, BONDS BOUND UPWARD

NEW YORK, April 16 (P).—Wall Street's legions of idle dollars—suddenly augmented by the new multi-million recovery drive in Washington—hustled for jobs in the security markets today and sent stock and bond prices spinning upward.

The back-to-work trek on the money front was evident in:

A broad and vigorous rise in United States Government bonds among the first to feel the pressure of the release of hundreds of millions of dollars in extra bank reserves in the Administration's credit expansion moves.

Further gains of $1 to $5 a share in many industrial stocks as well.

Rumanian Nazi Plot Discovered

BUCHAREST, Rumania, April 15 (Sunday) (P).—The ministry of interior today announced discovery of a nationwide plot against the government by the Nazi-inclined Iron Guard political organization.

The ministry said that in a surprise police search, which continued throughout the night, arms and munitions depots were found in homes of the lieutenants of Corneliu Codreanu, party leader.

It also announces discovery of document in which it was said Codreanu ordered party members to arm so as to be ready to march toward Bucharest and to create a tumultuous of the Iron Guard Legionaries.

Police were said to have arrested hundreds of Codreanu's sub-leaders, but it was not stated whether the chief of the pro-Nazi party was among them.

COLONEL LINDBERGH MAY PURCHASE ISLAND

LONDON, April 14.—The London Daily Telegraph reported from Paris today that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh may purchase the island of Illiec off the north coast of Brittany near St. Gildas Island, where the American airman has been engaged in scientific research work with Dr.

Seeing "famous people around the world" started with the first interview of the pretty Miss Bonnie Joe Hunter. Miss Hunter is the young lady who was the first air line hostess to fly with the Atlantic Flying Service from New York to London. Bonnie Jo says it is very thrilling to fly across this great ocean as a weekly job. She was a very kind hostess while making this flight.

While in London, I attended the King's Ball. Who should be "covering" that great social affair than the famous Society Editor, Frances Morrison, of the New York World. In talking to Frances I learned that the well-known psychologist, Stanley Brannon, was at the ball. I immediately found Dr. Brannon for an interview. He said he had just completed some research which would soon be released to the world of science.

In Paris I found the young lady who has just designed the new sensation of Paris, the new popular dance frock. This young lady was none other than Louise Tackett.

As I boarded a yacht for a trip through the Mediterranean Sea, I met, boarding the same boat, Miss Florence Sexton, the social secretary to the First Lady of the United States. Miss Sexton was traveling to Calcutta and touring Asia with her honorable employer.

I then sailed on to the Philippine Islands. In Manila I was on a sightseeing tour of the new constructions when I suddenly recognized the renowned American architect, Olin Stevens. He said he was pleased to have a fine co-worker in Miss Mary Ruth Bracken, a talented interior decorator.

In Tokio I saw an advertisement of a lecture to be given by the famous novelist, Shirley Washington. She was traveling in Japan noting material for her next novel.

On the ship sailing to Honolulu was the American National Golf Champion, Elton Johnson, who had just played in an invitation tournament in Shanghai. As we would expect from a member of the Davis Cup team, he had little difficulty in winning the match.

Vacationing in Hawaii was the "Best Dressed Man of America," Mr. George Mitchell. It is reported that "Esquire" gets its designs by watching Mr. Mitchell on the sly.

On returning to San Francisco, I visited the new Blackstone Hospital, established by Dr. Frank Blackstone. Dr. Blackstone introduced me to his two head nurses, Miss Veronica Cain and Miss Earlene Campbell. He told me that one of our former classmates, Clyde Edmondson, head of the Secretary Association of America, was holding a convention there. I attended one of the meetings for I knew I would see Geraldine Gouger, who is secretary to Mr. Edmondson. However, I was surprised to see Frances Lise, Vivian Speight and Ruth McKenzie, who are now private secretaries to three congressmen.

I then went down to the University of Southern California to see Betty Mann, who is physical education instructor. She told me that the two famous football players of the University were Arthur McConnell and the All American guard, Charles Wachholz.

I then visited the Paramount studios, where Dorothy Henderson was making her latest picture. The cameraman on the set was my old friend, Clarence Miller. The picture was written by the leading Hollywood playwright, Corinne Thompson. Willie Lee Pursell is the leading make-up artist and is in great demand.

I then went to Mexico City to compare their university with Southern California. I found Dr. Wesley Needham to be the head of the chemistry department.

I boarded a ship for Cuba and discovered Iris Hampton was head stewardess of the vessel. While touring Cuba I saw the great engineers, Jack Thompson and Franklin Needham.

I arrived in Miami in time to see the big horse races. Marguerite Greer is present owner of the Downs and is pleased with her success.

When I got back to Handley I heard that Mrs. Vaughn's ship had come in and she had retired. I rushed to dear old Handley to see who had replaced her; it was Lillian Speece.

I found mail from various friends reporting on our classmates. James Stowe is the new world light weight champion and is at present in St. Louis. Alvis Hardie has just broken the world record in the mile run. I found an invitation from Ellen Nelson, the music critic of the New York Times, to come to New York for the opera season. She thought it would be of special interest as Mona Belle Montgomery is to be the prima donna. She also mentioned that the mistress of the wardrobe department was June Wilson and the stage manager was Jack Stout. She had seen the wealthy broker, Fred Anderson, recently. Also in New York are two of our old radio enthusiasts. As you would expect, Jack Cromwell is one of the studio's best announcers, and Curtis Drinkard is head technician. Eugenia Grimes is director of the orchestra and staff violinist in the same station.

We hope our classmates may have continued glory and success. Power to you all!
